Chapter 5. CCAP Household Eligibility

§509. Certification Requirements for Non-Categorically Eligible Households

A. – A.5.d. …

e. Exception. If the head of household is actively seeking employment and/or training, the employment and/or training requirements for household certification provided in Paragraph 5 of this Section may be waived for 90 days.

i. to become certified as a CCAP household pursuant to this exception, the household must meet all certification requirements in this Section other than the employment and/or training activities required in Paragraph 5 of this Section, and must submit all documentation required for certification, as well as documentation establishing that the head of household is actively seeking employment and/or training.

ii. a household certified for CCAP pursuant to this exception shall be certified for 90 days, beginning on the day the household is certified. At the end of 90 days from the date of certification, certification under this exception ends. However, if during the 90-day certification period the head of household submits documentation establishing employment and/or training requirements meeting the requirements in Subparagraph 5.a of this Section, then the household may continue to be certified without interruption pursuant to the general certification requirements in this Section.

iii. an application for household certification under this exception shall be denied if the household has previously been certified under this exception within the past 24 months.

~~e~~f. The department shall conduct analysis of the impact of training and employment requirements on child care participation and workforce participation and shall produce a report with policy recommendations no later than August 2019.
