

LOUISIANA BACK-TO-SCHOOL GUIDE

for Parents of Students with Disabilities

A new school year means a new grade level, new teachers, and new goals. This guide provides you, as a parent of a child with a disability, with a quick overview of what you can do to prepare your child for a smooth transition back into school.

WHAT IS AN IEP?

Why is it important?

INDIVIDUALIZED EDUCATION PLANS (IEP)

- Outline individualized learning plans for students receiving special education services
- Define students needs and services based on a comprehensive evaluation process
- Set reasonable learning goals aligned to grade level expectations

The IEP is developed by a team of individuals that includes key school staff and the student's parents. The team meets, reviews the assessment information available about the student, and designs an educational program to address the student's educational needs that result from his or her disability.

HOW CAN I PREPARE MY CHILD FOR

a smooth transition back to school?

STUDENT LEARNING

- ✓ Review IEP goals with your child and make sure they understand their expectations for the year
- ✓ Make contact with your child's teachers and related services providers to make to share information and answer any questions about your child's individualized needs
- ✓ Know your child's accommodations and practice using them at home
- ✓ If your child is just becoming eligible for an alternative pathway under Act 833 (2014), schedule an IEP meeting within the first 30 days of school to develop additional IEP goals and objectives

HOW CAN PARENTS SUPPORT Student Learning at Home?

Learning and individual development should not end in the classroom. At home, you can play an important role in setting high expectations for learning and supporting your child. Building this understanding of what your child knows and should be able to do begins with meaningful conversations with your child and your child's teacher. By taking these small steps, you will be helping your child become successful both in and outside the classroom.

What are you learning
in _____ class?

Do you understand
what you are learning?

Do you get any additional help from your teacher (or related service provider such as speech pathologist) with this topic?

Do you feel comfortable
asking for additional help
when you need it?

Did you leave your classroom to work on anything in small groups?
What did you learn?

What types of accommodations
and supports does my child receive everyday?

Is my child able to effectively communicate with you?

Can you show me an example
of my child's work?

Is my child making the progress necessary to keep him/her on track with his/her peers?

What can we do to continue to help my child improve?
