

The goal for English language arts students is that they can read and understand grade-level texts independently, as demonstrated through writing and speaking about those texts. Strong ELA assessments provide opportunities for students to demonstrate they have met this goal with many different types of texts. A combination of formative and summative assessments across the different components of an ELA classroom provide a full picture of student performance in reading, writing, speaking and listening, and language study.

I. Text Selection and Other Stimuli
Tier 1 and 2 Non-Negotiable 1. QUALITY OF TEXTS: The quality of test passages and other stimuli is of high—they support multiple readings for various purposes and exhibit exceptional craft and thought and/or provide useful information. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 1a) 90% of texts provide rich opportunities for students to demonstrate evidence of meeting grade-level standards using texts.	Yes	At least 90% of the texts provide rich opportunities. The literary passages require students to read and understand literature on grade level. Works from William Shakespeare, Kate Chopin and Gabriela Mistral are included.
	REQUIRED 1b) Assessments or item banks include previously published passages and other stimuli for each grade level in addition to commissioned works; all texts are well-crafted, representing the quality of content, language, and writing that is produced by experts in various disciplines (e.g., English language arts, history/social studies, science, technical subjects, and the arts).	Yes	All of the text are previously published. No passages were commissioned.
	1c) Provides paired or multiple texts for students to demonstrate mastery of standards which require multiple texts; when research simulation tasks are included on an assessment, the set of texts includes at least two texts, one of which is an anchor text, and uses a variety of texts and text lengths.	Yes	Paired passages, multiple texts, and research stimulations are used where needed. The Performance Tasks in Grade 9 include multiple texts, graphs and charts, as well as a TED video which students must integrate and use to demonstrate mastery of multiple standards. For example, one of the tasks asks students to read three papers, "Argument in Favor of Electric Vehicles", "Battery Powered Vehicles Have Problems" and "Myth v. Fact on Electric Vehicles" which includes several graphs and tables. In addition to the three texts, students are asked to also watch a Ted Talk.

CRITERIA	INDICATORS OF SUPERIOR QUALITY	MEETS METRICS? (Yes/No)	JUSTIFICATION / COMMENTS WITH EXAMPLES
Tier 1 and 2 Non-Negotiable 2. COMPLEXITY OF TEXTS: Reading passages have the appropriate level of complexity as stated by Reading Standard 10¹ and Reading Foundational Standard 4. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 2a) Texts are appropriately complex for the identified grade level according to the requirements outlined in the standards. Measures for determining complexity include quantitative and qualitative analysis.² Poetry and drama are analyzed only using qualitative measures.	Yes	Text are appropriately complex for the grade level. Many of the passages are directives in Appendix A of the Common Core State Standards. Once passages were assigned to grade bands with the quantitative methodology, a qualitative review was conducted in order to assign passages to a specific grade within the grade band.
	REQUIRED 2b) Nearly all texts are placed within the grade band indicated by the quantitative analysis (as applicable). Rare exceptions (in which the qualitative measure has trumped the quantitative measures and placed the text outside the grade band) are usually reserved for literary texts in the upper grades.	Yes	Nearly all the texts are placed within the grade band indicated by the quantitative analysis. There are rare exceptions which are marked. In Grade 9 an exception was made to the grade band derived by quantitative analysis because qualitative analysis indicated a high grade band would be more appropriate. In the qualitative analysis of the "The Story of an Hour", several dimensions of text complexity were considered. Theme, experiences, clarity were taken into consideration when determining the grade band level.
	REQUIRED 2c) In a set of reading assessments, texts increase in complexity as materials progress throughout the grade level and across grade bands . Read-aloud texts follow the same trend, although they may have greater variability because listening skills in elementary school generally outpace reading skills.	Yes	To verify that each grade was in line with this requirement we followed the following procedure. From the individual passage index described above, the publisher established that median the text complexity level of all passages in the grade increased for each successive grade. This established that each grade was more complex than the previous grade. Since the submission represents an item bank, the publisher used the following procedure to insure compliance with this criterion. The passages contain a wide range of text difficulty levels. Second, text difficulty was included as a variable in a database. This allows passages to be selected for an assessment that have a

			range of difficulty within the grade level. Texts of varying complexity were evenly distributed across the grade level. The abundance of readings at varying text difficulty levels allows educators to select easier passages at the beginning of the year and more difficult passages near the end of the year. Alternatively, schools may opt to conduct formative assessment at a relatively constant text complexity level in order to gauge student progress.
3. RANGE OF TEXTS: Texts used on reading assessments or in an item bank reflect the distribution of text types and genres suggested by the standards: Text types and genres generally reflect the definitions provided on page 31 (grades K-5) and page 57 (grades 6-12) of the standards and included in the text of the standards (e.g., RL.2.9, RL.9-10.6, RI.7.7, or RI.11-12.9). <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 3a) In grades K-12, passages on ELA assessments or in an item bank seek a balance between 50% literature/ 50% informational texts. In grades 6-12, the inclusion of literacy texts (i.e., historical and scientific informational texts) might shift the balance toward more informational texts.	Yes	There is a balance of 50% literature and 50% informational passages.
	REQUIRED 3b) Assessments or item banks include texts of different formats (e.g., print and non-print, including film, art, music, charts, etc.) and lengths.	Yes	The assessment in 9 th grade uses various formats including: film, print, non-print, audio, photos, etc. For example in a Performance Task, students are asked to make connections between a video, graphs, and 3 informational passages. In another task they are asked to analyze a poem, "The Thinker" by Gabriela Mistral and the classic sculpture by Rodin, "The Thinker". The length of the readings range, in Grade 9, from brief excerpts to longer more demanding passages.
	3c) Assessments or item banks include many informational texts with an informational text structure rather than a narrative structure; grades 6-12 include literary nonfiction.	Yes	The majority of the informational passages have an informational text structure.
II. Design

CRITERIA	INDICATORS OF SUPERIOR QUALITY	MEETS METRICS? (Yes/No)	JUSTIFICATION / COMMENTS WITH EXAMPLES
Tier 1 and 2 Non-Negotiable 4. DESIGN AND SCORING: Assessments genuinely measure progress and elicit direct, observable evidence of the degree to which students can independently demonstrate the assessed grade-specific standards with appropriately complex text(s). <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 4a) Assessments incorporate performance tasks,³ which allow students to respond to a set of texts through reading and writing. Student scores are based on their performance with texts, tasks, and a combination of standards with texts, rather than isolated standards.	Yes	This grade contains at least one performance task that requires students to interact with multiple stimuli (including texts and/or media) and assess a combination of standards.
	REQUIRED 4b) Aligned rubrics or assessment guidelines (such as scoring guides or student work exemplars) are included and provide sufficient guidance for interpreting student performance.	Yes	All questions have an answer key or scoring rubrics with key passage details to assist in scoring. Rubrics are specific to each passage and when used with the passage details provided, giving abundant guidance to assessors.
	4c) A variety of assessments for different uses are included, e.g., pre-, formative, summative and self-assessment measures.	Yes	A variety of assessments for different uses can be generated by the iSTEEP system. Assessments include: pre-testing, universal screening, formative assessment and progress monitoring.
	4d) Materials assess student proficiency using methods that are unbiased and accessible to all students.	Yes	The assessments are unbiased and accessible to all students.
III. Assessment Items
Tier 1 and 2 Non-Negotiable 5. TEXT-DEPENDENT QUESTIONS AND TASKS: Items are text-dependent, reflecting the expectations of Reading Standard 1; they require students to use the text to find or infer the answers	REQUIRED 5a) Nearly all of the questions on assessments or in an item bank are text-dependent, i.e., the questions require close reading and analysis of the text(s); they can be answered correctly without prior knowledge; and they are linked to a text (i.e., not “stand alone”).	Yes	In grade 9 all of the questions are text dependent. For example one of the questions asks, "The poem "Wealth" by Muneto was written in 7th century Japan. How are the poet's viewpoint different from those of an American now? Cite strong textual evidence to support your analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text."

and use textual evidence as support for meeting the expectations of other grade-level standards. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No
	REQUIRED 5b) A large majority of items on a reading assessment reflect the requirements of Reading Standard 1 by requiring students to directly select or provide evidence from the text to support their answers to questions which measure other grade-level standards. No items assess Reading Standard 1 in isolation.	Yes	Almost all items on the assessment reflect the requirements of Reading Standard 1 and require students to directly select or provide evidence from the text to support their answers to questions. Reading Standard 1 is never assessed in isolation. Nearly all multiple choice questions are two parts. For example, after reading "Black Beauty" students are asked the multiple choice question, "What is the theme of this passage?" The question that immediately follows is "Which of the following quotes supports the main idea of the passage?"
	5c) Assessments or item banks contain a variety of types of test questions and tasks, including when possible technology-enhanced and constructed-response formats, to approach the texts in ways uniquely appropriate to each text.	Yes	Assessments contain a variety of types of test questions and tasks, including constructed response and selected response items. The W-L items have response requirements of varying depth and length. Items include a rich variety of non-text stimuli such as photos, videos, audios, and mixed media.
Tier 1 and 2 Non-Negotiable 6. ALIGNMENT: Items reflect the rigor and cognitive complexity demanded by the standards; they assess the depth and breadth of the standards at each grade level. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 6a) Items on an assessment and in an item bank are worth asking in that they focus on the big ideas and important particulars of the text, rather than superficial or peripheral concepts.	Yes	The items on the assessment are worth asking in that they focus on important ideas from the passages and require deep reading of the texts.
	REQUIRED 6b) Questions on an assessment or in an item bank include the language of the standards, and assess the depth and complexity required by the standards (i.e., the concepts, topics, and texts named) at each grade-level over time to advance and deepen student learning. (Note: not every standard must be	Yes	The questions assess the depth and complexity of the standards. The language of the standards is included in some questions. For example, in Grade 9 Stimulus Set CR % includes the following questions which contains language from the Standards: "In many forms of literature there is a need to remain aware of how complex characters develop over the course of a text, interact with

	assessed with every text.)		other characters, and how this all advances the plot or develops the theme. In this story describe how does our vision of the main character changes or evolves over the course of the text as the narrator describes him?" This question addresses RL.9. 3.
	REQUIRED 6c) Vocabulary items on assessments and in an item bank assess words essential to the central meaning and purpose of the text, focusing on determining word meaning based on context and relationships/connections to other words (i.e., synonyms, antonyms, Greek and Latin roots, shades of meaning/connotation, how words contribute to tone); questions and tasks also support students in examining the language (sentences and structure) of texts measured by Criteria 1, 2, and 3.	Yes	Grade 9 contains multiple questions which specifically addresses vocabulary and focus on determining the meaning of important words from context/connections. For example, in Grade 9 Stimulus-Item SR contains the following: In the following phrase, what does the word "infidelity" mean?...and Which passage best helps you understand the meaning of the word "infidelity"? Students are required to read the text closely for contextual phrases that connect the vocabulary word of interest.
	6d) Sets of questions for given text(s) are coherently sequenced to assess student understanding and elicit sustained attention to the text and its connection to other texts, where appropriate.	Yes	Schools can select sets of questions with guidance from iSTEEP. When appropriate to the purpose, text(s) can be coherently sequenced to assess student understanding. For example, texts on a longer summative assessment may be sequenced such that passage range for easier to more difficult.
7. WRITING TO SOURCES: The majority of writing prompts and tasks are text-dependent and reflect the writing genres named in the standards. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 7a) A vast majority of written tasks at all grade levels require students to analyze and synthesize sources, as well as to present careful analysis, well-defended claims and clear information, drawing on textual evidence and to support valid inferences from text.	Yes	Virtually all written tasks require students to (a) analyze and synthesize sources, (b) present careful analysis, and use textual evidence to support valid inferences from text. For example in Grade 9, Stimulus Item set CR 4 contains the following question: Read Chesterton's "The Fallacy of Success". Using the text to support your answer, what do you think Chesterton thinks the fallacy of success is? What is his point of view in writing this article? Analyze the creative (funny?) ways in which he develops his ideas over the course of the text, including how it emerges and is shaped and refined by specific details. Cite strong textual evidence to support the analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.

	REQUIRED 7b) Assessments include multiple writing tasks with varied length and time demands (e.g., notes, charts, summaries, short-answer responses, essays, on-demand, etc.).	Yes	Grade 9 contains a large number of writing tasks. These tasks vary in length and purpose.
	7c) Assessments include more than one mode of writing (opinion/argumentative, informative, narrative) or blended mode (i.e., analytical writing).	Yes	Items include stimuli that require many types of writing for various purposes including opinion/argumentative, informative, analytical narrative modes. Detailed instructions are provided to guide students to use particular modes of writing and good writing mechanics.
	7d) Narrative prompts decrease in number and increase in being based on text(s) in later grades, e.g., narrative description (text-based, chronological writing) rather than imaginative narratives.	Yes	Narrative prompts are used sparingly at the lower grades and are rarely used in later grades.
8. SPEAKING AND LISTENING*: Items assessing speaking and listening must be text-dependent and reflect true communication skills required for college and career readiness. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No *As applicable	REQUIRED 8a) Speaking and listening assessments use texts and other stimuli measured by Criteria 1, 2, and 3.	Yes	The S-L assessments are text based and use the same texts and other stimuli measured by Criteria 1, 2, and 3.
	8b) Assessments assess students' ability to gather and use evidence to orally present findings from research and express well-supported ideas clearly; effective engagement includes using appropriate, grade-level academic language (including vocabulary and syntax).	Yes	Assessment questions and scoring rubrics guide assessors to measure students' ability to research their talk, use the research by orally presenting findings, and express well-supported ideas clearly. Students are also evaluated with respect to their ability to use appropriate, grade-level academic language.
	8c) Items assessing listening permit the evaluation of active listening skills, such as taking notes on main ideas, asking relevant questions, and probing ideas under discussion by building and elaborating on	Yes	Some items require students to listen to other student present, take notes, and ask polite relevant questions.

9. LANGUAGE: Items adequately address the Language standards for the grade, including through unpacking the vocabulary and syntax of text(s). <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 9a) The majority of language points are obtained from test questions specifically designed to assess language as part of an integrated task or in relation to a text, or the points are obtained from scores on student writing.	Yes	The vast majority of language points derive from questions that assess language as part of an integrated task requiring students to respond to prompts related to passages and other stimuli. The items are designed to be used flexibly. The Common Core Standards encourage items that measure multiple standards with a common set of tasks. Thus, a passage can be used to assess a single standard or it can be used to assess multiple standards.
	REQUIRED 9b) Questions and tasks address common student errors and the grammar and language conventions specified by the Language standards at each grade level.	Yes	There is a separate scoring rubric for language within most W-L questions. Students are also provided with instructions that remind them to adhere to good writing mechanics and language. The specific skills emphasized by The Common Core State Standards, Language Section at each grade level are listed within the scoring rubric to highlight the grammar and usage components which are a primary focus at each grade level.
	REQUIRED 9c) Questions and tasks focus on conventions most important for college and career readiness that build from previous grade levels, as indicated by pages 30 and 56 of the standards.	Yes	As part of the instructions to assessors for longer writing tasks and the scoring rubrics for language, the appropriate table (from page 30 or 56) is reproduced to remind assessors of skills most important for college and career readiness that build from previous grade levels.
	9d) A majority of items assessing conventions and writing strategies reflect actual practice to the extent possible, i.e., they mirror authentic editing or revision, writing, etc.	Yes	The writing tasks are authentic and reflect the type of writing students need in order to be college and career ready.
