

The goal for English language arts students is that they can read and understand grade-level texts independently, as demonstrated through writing and speaking about those texts. Strong ELA assessments provide opportunities for students to demonstrate they have met this goal with many different types of texts. A combination of formative and summative assessments across the different components of an ELA classroom provide a full picture of student performance in reading, writing, speaking and listening, and language study.

I. Text Selection and Other Stimuli
Tier 1 and 2 Non-Negotiable 1. QUALITY OF TEXTS: The quality of test passages and other stimuli is of high—they support multiple readings for various purposes and exhibit exceptional craft and thought and/or provide useful information. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 1a) 90% of texts provide rich opportunities for students to demonstrate evidence of meeting grade-level standards using texts. REQUIRED 1b) Assessments or item banks include previously published passages and other stimuli for each grade level in addition to commissioned works; all texts are well-crafted, representing the quality of content, language, and writing that is produced by experts in various disciplines (e.g., English language arts, history/social studies, science, technical subjects, and the arts). 1c) Provides paired or multiple texts for students to demonstrate mastery of standards which require multiple texts; when research simulation tasks are included on an assessment, the set of texts includes at least two texts, one of which is an anchor text, and uses a variety of texts and text lengths.	Yes Yes Yes	Texts provide rich opportunities for students to demonstrate evidence of meeting the grade-level standards using texts. Assessments and item banks include previously published passages for each grade-level. Many of the texts are well-crafted and cover many disciplines, English language arts, history/social studies, and science. For example, the passage Wind Tunnels was written by the experts at NASA and the passage Blood Toil Tears and Sweat is a speech written by Winston Churchill. Paired texts are provided for students to demonstrate mastery of standards.
Tier 1 and 2 Non-Negotiable 2. COMPLEXITY OF TEXTS: Reading passages have the appropriate level of complexity as stated by Reading Standard 10¹ and Reading Foundational Standard 4. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 2a) Texts are appropriately complex for the identified grade level according to the requirements outlined in the standards. Measures for determining complexity include quantitative and qualitative analysis.² Poetry and drama are analyzed only using qualitative measures.	Yes	The texts are appropriately complex for the grade level and include measures such as Mean Readability, Readability Levels, and Lexile Level. Texts are assigned based on Quantitative and Qualitative Analysis. While there is a range of text complexity (i.e. Sarah, Plain and Tall on the lower end of the range and "The Nose" on the higher end of the range) some of the texts at the higher end of the range could be considered too complex for the grade band. Additionally, the content of some of the texts provided in the fourth grade set may be inappropriate for the age group. For example there are nonfiction texts on

			the topics of cancer and smoking. There is also a nonfiction text about slavery that included a very graphic photograph.
	REQUIRED 2b) Nearly all texts are placed within the grade band indicated by the quantitative analysis (as applicable). Rare exceptions (in which the qualitative measure has trumped the quantitative measures and placed the text outside the grade band) are usually reserved for literary texts in the upper grades.	Yes	Nearly all texts are placed within the grade band indicated by the quantitative analysis.
	REQUIRED 2c) In a set of reading assessments, texts increase in complexity as materials progress throughout the grade level and across grade bands . Read-aloud texts follow the same trend, although they may have greater variability because listening skills in elementary school generally outpace reading skills.	Yes	There is a noticeable progression from grade 4 to grade 5. Although there was some variance in complexity, there is a notable progression in text complexity and task rigor within the grade level and across the grade band (4th grade to 5th grade).
3. RANGE OF TEXTS: Texts used on reading assessments or in an item bank reflect the distribution of text types and genres suggested by the standards: Text types and genres generally reflect the definitions provided on page 31 (grades K-5) and page 57 (grades 6-12) of the standards and included in the text of the standards (e.g., RL.2.9 , RL.9-10.6 , RI.7.7 , or RI.11-12.9). <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 3a) In grades K-12, passages on ELA assessments or in an item bank seek a balance between 50% literature/ 50% informational texts. In grades 6-12, the inclusion of literacy texts (i.e., historical and scientific informational texts) might shift the balance toward more informational texts.	Yes	The passages for grades 4 and 5 are well balanced between literary and informational texts.
REQUIRED 3b) Assessments or item banks include texts of different formats (e.g., print and non-print, including film, art, music, charts, etc.) and lengths.	Yes	Texts of different formats are included, such as poetry, videos, brochures, audio clips etc. In grade 5 the text version and audio version of the poem “Oh Captain! My Captain!” are given. Students will write a response about how the audio assisted with their interpretation of the poem. For example, in grade 4 students are required to refer to photos in a brochure

	3c) Assessments or item banks include many informational texts with an informational text structure rather than a narrative structure; grades 6-12 include literary nonfiction.	Yes	Many of the informational texts have informational text structures. However, there are examples of informational texts with a narrative text structure and a lack of charts and graphs. In grade 4 the students read a speech given by Winston Churchill and an article about aerodynamics.
II. Design
Tier 1 and 2 Non-Negotiable 4. DESIGN AND SCORING: Assessments genuinely measure progress and elicit direct, observable evidence of the degree to which students can independently demonstrate the assessed grade-specific standards with appropriately complex text(s). <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 4a) Assessments incorporate performance tasks,³ which allow students to respond to a set of texts through reading and writing. Student scores are based on their performance with texts, tasks, and a combination of standards with texts, rather than isolated standards.	Yes	Each set includes one performance task. The students are asked to respond to a set of texts through reading and writing including writing and multiple choice. Tasks assess students on a combination of standards.
	REQUIRED 4b) Aligned rubrics or assessment guidelines (such as scoring guides or student work exemplars) are included and provide sufficient guidance for interpreting student performance.	Yes	Assessment guidelines are included. The constructed response questions include a scoring rubric with suggested information that the students should provide. Assessments guides, assessor answer keys, look fors, and rubric outlines are provided and give sufficient guidance for interpreting student performance. The performance tasks include “answer details” which may provide some guidance for teachers
	4c) A variety of assessments for different uses are included, e.g., pre-, formative, summative and self-assessment measures.	Yes	A variety of assessments for different uses can be generated by the iSTEEP System to provide assessments for pre-testing, universal screening, formative assessment and progress monitoring..

³ PARCC Task Models (grades 3-5, grades 6-8, grades 9-11) provide additional information about how standards might be combined around particular texts.

III. Assessment Items
Tier 1 and 2 Non-Negotiable 5. TEXT-DEPENDENT QUESTIONS AND TASKS: Items are text-dependent, reflecting the expectations of Reading Standard 1; they require students to use the text to find or infer the answers and use textual evidence as support for meeting the expectations of other grade-level standards. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 5a) Nearly all of the questions on assessments or in an item bank are text-dependent, i.e., the questions require close reading and analysis of the text(s); they can be answered correctly without prior knowledge; and they are linked to a text (i.e., not “stand alone”).	Yes	Many of the questions are text-dependent. Some of the questions in the fourth grade set are asking the students to recall information but they are linked to the text and do not “stand alone.” For example, questions included quotes from the text to support answers, asked students to choose evidence to cite from the passage, and asked most questions with a strong connection to the text (as stated in the text, as evidenced in the text).
	REQUIRED 5b) A large majority of items on a reading assessment reflect the requirements of Reading Standard 1 by requiring students to directly select or provide evidence from the text to support their answers to questions which measure other grade-level standards. No items assess Reading Standard 1 in isolation.	Yes	The majority of the items require student to directly select, provide, or consider evidence from the text to support their answers. For example, questions included quotes from the text to support answers, asked students to choose evidence to cite from the passage, and asked most questions with a strong connection to the text (as stated in the text, as evidenced in the text).
	5c) Assessments or item banks contain a variety of types of test questions and tasks, including when possible technology-enhanced and constructed-response formats, to approach the texts in ways uniquely appropriate to each text.	Yes	The item bank contains a variety of question types including multiple choice, constructed response, and performance tasks. In addition, on the website it states that iSTEEP provided technology enhanced items.
Tier 1 and 2 Non-Negotiable 6. ALIGNMENT: Items reflect the rigor and cognitive complexity demanded by the standards; they	REQUIRED 6a) Items on an assessment and in an item bank are worth asking in that they focus on the big ideas and important particulars of the text, rather than	Yes	The items do focus on big ideas and important particulars of the text. The multiple-choice questions were very similar from text to text which limited the standards that were being addressed in that format.

assess the depth and breadth of the standards at each grade level. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	superficial or peripheral concepts. REQUIRED 6b) Questions on an assessment or in an item bank include the language of the standards, and assess the depth and complexity required by the standards (i.e., the concepts, topics, and texts named) at each grade-level over time to advance and deepen student learning. (Note: not every standard must be assessed with every text.) REQUIRED 6c) Vocabulary items on assessments and in an item bank assess words essential to the central meaning and purpose of the text, focusing on determining word meaning based on context and relationships/connections to other words (i.e., synonyms, antonyms, Greek and Latin roots, shades of meaning/connotation, how words contribute to tone); questions and tasks also support students in examining the language (sentences and structure) of texts measured by Criteria 1, 2, and 3. 6d) Sets of questions for given text(s) are coherently sequenced to assess student understanding and elicit sustained attention to the text and its connection to other texts, where appropriate.	 Yes Yes Yes	 For the most part, questions assess at the depth and complexity required by the standards. Over time, questions and tasks advance and deepen student learning. The vocabulary items do require the students to use some context from the text and sometimes cite evidence. The students are asked to look at and evaluate the structure of certain texts and compare and contrast the structure of text sets. All of the questions do follow a coherent set of questions.
7. WRITING TO SOURCES: The majority of writing prompts and tasks are text-dependent and reflect the writing genres named in the standards. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 7a) A vast majority of written tasks at all grade levels require students to analyze and synthesize sources, as well as to present careful analysis, well-defended claims and clear information, drawing on textual evidence and to support valid inferences from text.	Yes	The constructed response questions, performance tasks and writing and language items require students to analyze and synthesize sources, as well as draw on textual evidence when making inferences and defending their claims. In addition, written tasks come with exemplars that identify the correct evidence that students could use to answer the question. For example, in Stimulus-Item Set CR3 in grade 5, the students are asked to, “Compare and contrast the overall structure of the passages in terms of how events and ideas

			are presented. How does this structure influence how you are able to understand the character? Cite specific evidence from each passage to support your ideas.”The performance task requires grade 4 students to compare audio presentations with a brochure requiring students to gather specific evidence.
	REQUIRED 7b) Assessments include multiple writing tasks with varied length and time demands (e.g., notes, charts, summaries, short-answer responses, essays, on-demand, etc.).	Yes	The item bank includes constructed response, performance tasks, and writing and language items, requiring students to have to write in varied lengths. For example, in grade 5 one of the constructed response items contains a poem and three questions. One of the questions asks the students, “ How do all of the stanzas fit together?” Another questions asks the students to compose a 1-2 page narrative with a theme that is similar to the one conveyed in the poem.
	7c) Assessments include more than one mode of writing (opinion/argumentative, informative, narrative) or blended mode (i.e., analytical writing).	Yes	Students complete many different modes of writing. They are asked to complete all of the different types of writing with constructed response items and performance tasks. For example, in grade 5 the students are to read two passages about taking precautions or being aware of dangers. After reading the passages the students are to, “Note the ways that each warns against danger. After reading both pieces, detail 3-5 things kids need to be aware of...” The students must also include personal experiences within the response.
	7d) Narrative prompts decrease in number and increase in being based on text(s) in later grades, e.g., narrative description (text-based, chronological writing) rather than imaginative narratives.	Yes	Most writing prompts are text-based. When narrative writing prompts are used they are in reference to accompanying texts. In grade 5 the students are asked to write a first person narrative with a similar theme to a

8. SPEAKING AND LISTENING*: Items assessing speaking and listening must be text-dependent and reflect true communication skills required for college and career readiness. <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No *As applicable	REQUIRED 8a) Speaking and listening assessments use texts and other stimuli measured by Criteria 1, 2, and 3.	Yes	The speaking and listening assessments are text based and use the same texts and other stimuli measured by Criteria 1, 2, and 3. For example, In grade 4 performance tasks students are required to have a debate.
	8b) Assessments assess students’ ability to gather and use evidence to orally present findings from research and express well-supported ideas clearly; effective engagement includes using appropriate, grade-level academic language (including vocabulary and syntax).	Yes	The assessments assess students’ ability to gather and use evidence to orally present findings from research and express well-supported ideas clearly. In one of the grade 5 Speaking and Listening items the students are asked to present connections , reference, and integrate information from the included texts, in their oral presentations. Performance task require students to gather information and support their ideas then engage an audience. One form of engagement is through a debate.
	8c) Items assessing listening permit the evaluation of active listening skills, such as taking notes on main ideas, asking relevant questions, and probing ideas under discussion by building and elaborating on remarks of others.	Yes	The publisher states that some of the items would require the students to listen, take notes, and ask questions. Asking questions and taking notes are part of the speaking and listening assessment rubric.
9. LANGUAGE: Items adequately address the Language standards for the grade, including through unpacking the vocabulary and syntax of text(s). <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	REQUIRED 9a) The majority of language points are obtained from test questions specifically designed to assess language as part of an integrated task or in relation to a text, or the points are obtained from scores on student writing.	Yes	Language points are obtained from assessing language as part of an integrated task. For example, Language points are assessed in the Language and Writing Section.
	REQUIRED 9b) Questions and tasks address common student errors and the grammar and language conventions specified by the Language standards at each grade level.	Yes	Scoring rubrics for writing tasks include a Language section which assess grammar, mechanics, and usage. Guidance is given for each grade level for each grade level of errors that have special significance for students.

CRITERIA	INDICATORS OF SUPERIOR QUALITY	MEETS METRICS? (Yes/No)	JUSTIFICATION / COMMENTS WITH EXAMPLES
	REQUIRED 9c) Questions and tasks focus on conventions most important for college and career readiness that build from previous grade levels, as indicated by pages 30 and 56 of the standards .	Yes	Each writing task encourages students to focus on organization, spelling, grammar, and mechanics. The chart from page 30 of the standards is given to give guidance on the most important language skills for students.
	9d) A majority of items assessing conventions and writing strategies reflect actual practice to the extent possible, i.e., they mirror authentic editing or revision, writing, etc.	No	There were no directions included for students to revise or edit their piece.
