

LDOE Weekly Newsletter

June 23, 2020

Dear Colleagues,

Earlier today I previewed our school reopening guidance with over 800 Louisiana school leaders. I was pleased to be joined by Dr. Frank Welch from the Louisiana Department of Health (LDH). We worked closely with LDH throughout this process, and I know it benefited our school leaders to hear directly from him.

These resources will be shared publicly soon. They will be easily accessible on our website. In addition to the reopening guidelines, we will update our Strong Start page with additional resources and a dynamic frequently asked questions document. We will continually update this FAQ, as I know you all have questions about reopening.

Even with these guidelines and resources, there are many unknowns. This is uncharted territory for us in public education. I understand your concerns. Just a few weeks ago, I was a school system superintendent leading through the pandemic. Regardless of what things look like in August, we have to find a way to safely provide an education to our children.

It will take innovation and urgency like never before, but I know we can get there together.

Dr. Cade Brumley
State Superintendent of Education
