Balanced School Calendar: Key Considerations for Implementation
Please share with school system leaders and school leaders

At its August 2020 meeting, BESE directed the Louisiana Department of Education to research the potential development of a Louisiana “balanced” school calendar model or other possible alternative school calendar options.

Year-round education (YRE), also referred to as the balanced school calendar model, is a concept that reorganizes minimum instructional time requirements across the academic year to provide learning that is more continuous by reducing the time students spend on summer vacation.

Last week, the Department hosted the Teaching and Learning Roundtable discussion on Balanced School Calendar: Key Considerations for Implementation. Educators may access the presentation using the following link.
