

State law in Louisiana Revised Statute 17:10.5 creates a Parent Petition Process to enable parents to choose to turn over their child's low performing school to the control of the Recovery School District (RSD). The RSD works to transform academically struggling schools and has a demonstrated record of raising student achievement. Only low-performing schools—those that receive a D or F rating for three straight years prior to intervention by the RSD—are eligible for the Parent Petition Process. To learn if your child's school is eligible to be transformed into a charter school by the Recovery School District, please review the list of Parent Petition eligible schools on the Louisiana Department of Education's Parent Petition website page.

To indicate your desire to have your school placed within the Recovery School District, please follow the instructions below.

2. Please submit only one form for each child attending the school.
