

Essential Supports for Students with Autism Spectrum Disorders

Louisiana Autism Spectrum and Related Disabilities (LASARD) Project

Julie Riley, Chris Champagne, & Melinda Luna

Participants will:

- learn how to implement essential supports for students with Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD) and related disabilities in the classroom.
- identify the essential supports for students with ASD.
- evaluate how essential supports are currently used in their school/district.
- develop a plan for implementing essential supports across settings.

The LASARD Project is a collaborative effort between LSUHSC Human Development Center and the Louisiana Department of Education.

What is Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD)?

ASD is a developmental disability that impacts the way individuals communicate and interpret their environment, often resulting in challenges with social interactions and processing information.

Spectrum

- Characteristics of ASD are not the same across individuals.
- Each student with ASD has different strengths, interests, and dreams.
- Individual first

General Assumptions

Students with ASD are visual learners.

Students with ASD are literal learners.

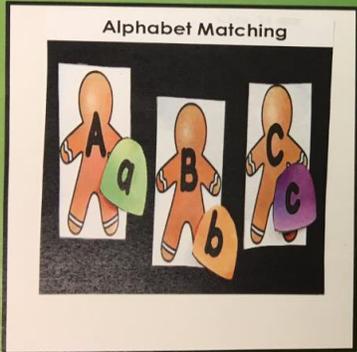

Students with ASD need consistency and predictability.

Visual Supports

Visual supports are any materials that illustrate important information. This ranges from labels that identify the contents of a drawer or indicate where homework should be placed, to charts that help students track their progress toward completion of a particular assignment.

Classroom Rules

 Respect Ourselves 	1 Bring all materials, homework, and assignments to each class. 2 Remain focused and attentive. +teacher
 Respect Others 	3 Wait your turn to speak. 4 Follow all directives from staff members. 5 Keep hands, feet, and objects to yourself.
 Respect the Environment 	6 Use inside voices.   7 Wait your turn and move safely during transitions . Excuse Me!

How do visual supports help?

Visual supports help students with ASD stay focused on their schoolwork throughout the day and help streamline the learning process.

Adding Fractions With UNLIKE denominators

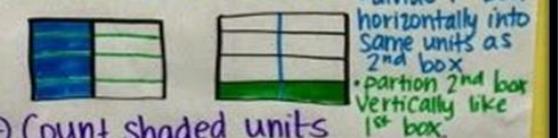

① Draw 2 rectangles

② Break into parts to model.

③ Create like units

④ Count shaded units

$$\frac{4}{8} + \frac{2}{8} = \frac{6}{8}$$

BONUS:
Simplify as $\frac{3}{4}$

Why should you use priming in your classroom?

- Gives students a chance to become familiar with the materials or skills, and increases the likelihood they will learn and use key concepts
- Remind students of expected behavior prior to an activity

When should you use priming?

- ▶ All the time!
- ▶ Most effective when built into student's daily routine

Why is communication important?

- ALL people can and do communicate.
- Communication allows people to exercise control over their lives and environments.
- People communicate in many different ways- some more efficient and some more effective than others.

Components of Communication

- Appropriate communication partners
- Form (i.e., a way to send the message)
- Content (i.e., something to talk about)
- Reason or purpose to communicate

Form –
The way a student expresses thoughts or needs

Could include:
Verbalizations
Sign
Gestures
AAC
Low tech to high tech

Function – The reason or purpose a student communicates.

Social Interaction

Augmentative / Alternative Communication (AAC)

- AAC refers to communication that enhances, augments, or supplements speech and covers a broad range of methods and strategies, from computer-based systems with voice output to teacher-created letter boards.
- Other examples of AAC include writing, drawing, gesturing, facial expressions, and sign language.
- The purpose of AAC is to increase/improve an individual's ability to achieve basic communication functions in the environments and activities in which he/she participates or is expected to participate .

Low Tech

- Communication boards (objects, symbols, etc.)
- Picture Exchange Communication System (PECS)
- Lanyards
- Eye Gaze Board
- Key Chains
- Wallets

Mid-Tech

- Portable word processor
- Simple, single or multi-message communication devices

High-Tech

Complex augmentative communication devices

Accommodation vs. Modification

Accommodations are supports and services provided to help a student access the general education curriculum and demonstrate learning. An accommodation does not alter the standard being taught to the students.

Modifications are individualized changes made to the content and performance expectations for students. It does fundamentally alter or lower the standard being taught to the students.

Why Modify the Curriculum?

Reinforcement

Reinforcement is rewarding students for behaving in ways that are productive and support their continued personal growth.

Primary Types of Positive Reinforcement

Tangible Reinforcers

- Food items
- Age-appropriate toy or game
- Preferred age-appropriate items such as access to an electronic device

How can I earn a Bee Buck?

- Stay in your seat

- Raise your hand if you need help

- Complete assigned work

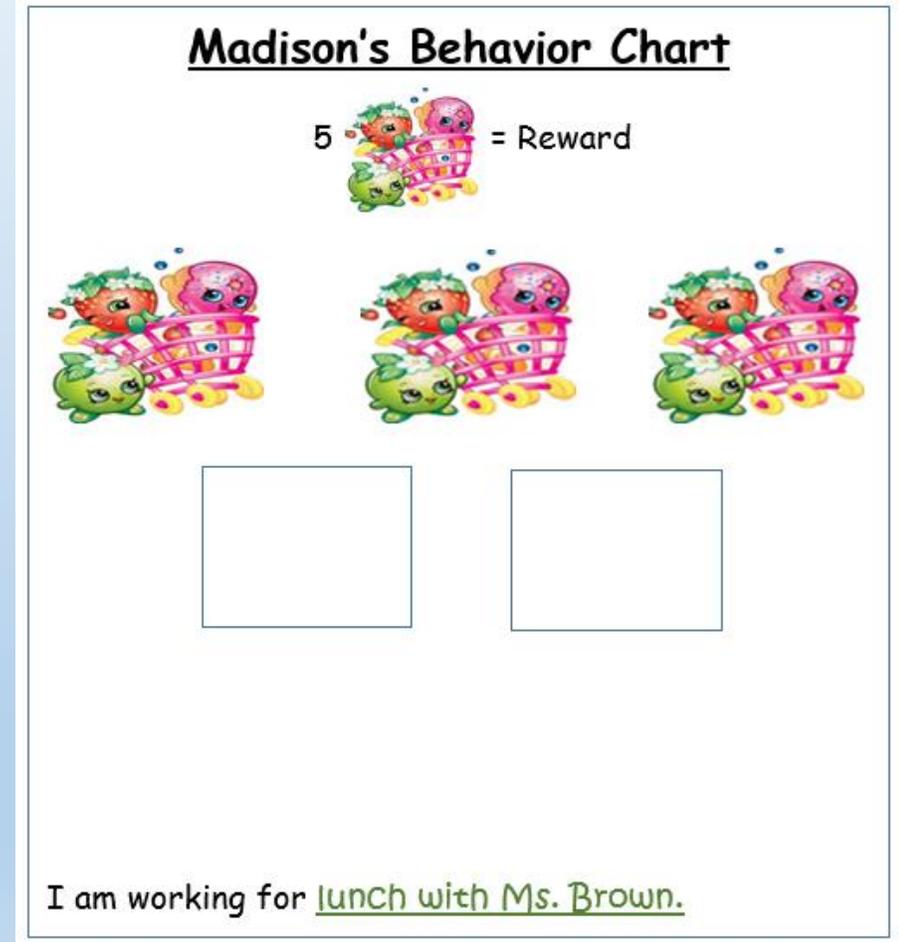

- Use kind words to your friends

Thank You! Please Excuse me
I'm sorry
- Be on your BEST behavior!

Primary Types of Positive Reinforcement

Social Reinforcers

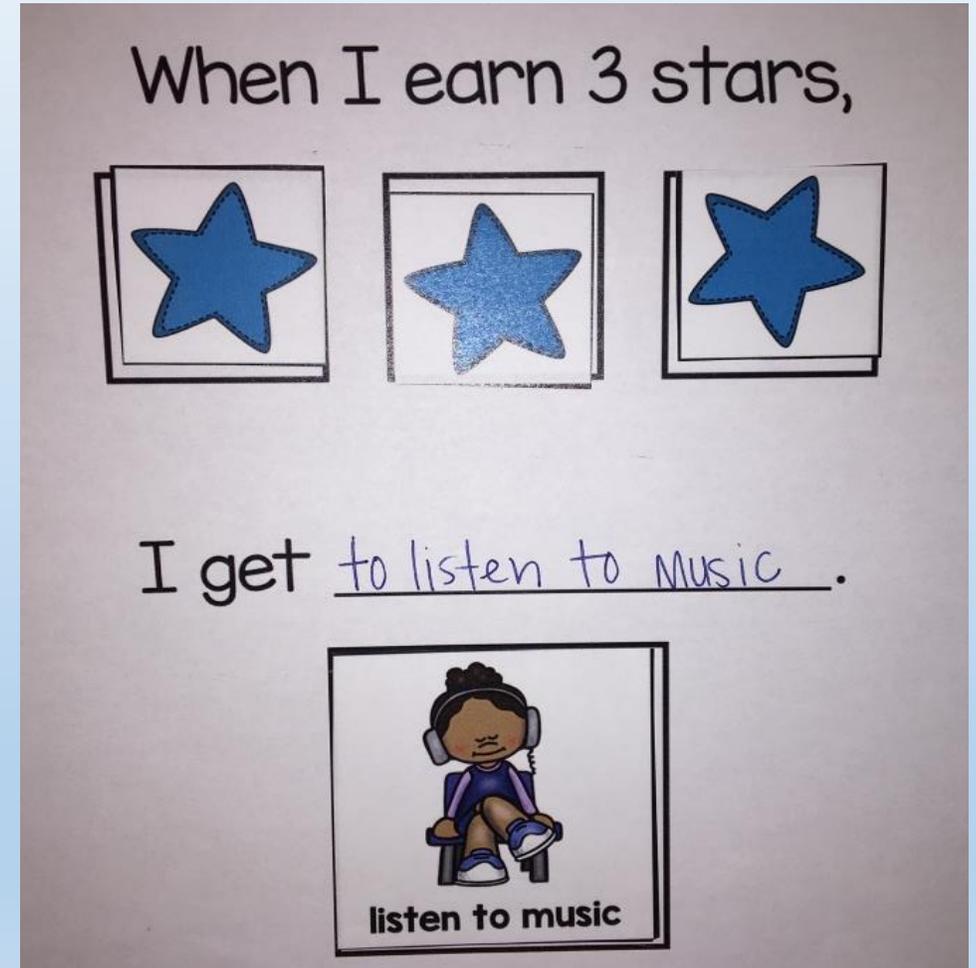

- Verbal praise
- High 5s
- Spending time with a preferred person

Primary Types of Positive Reinforcement

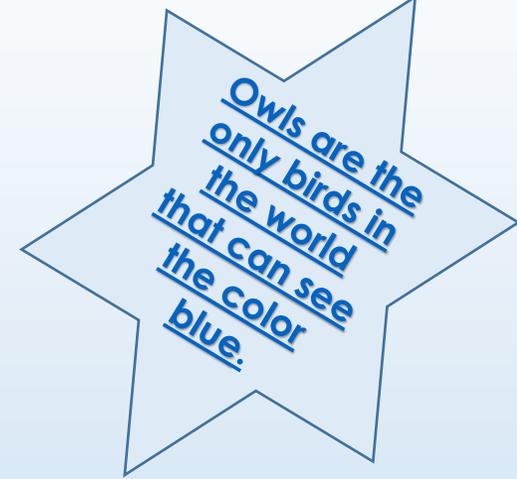

Activity Reinforcers

- Selecting a game or activity for recess
- Reading to a friend
- Having extra time in a favorite subject
- Going out first to recess

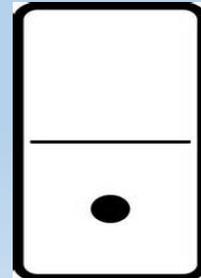

Special Interests!

Use special interests when picking reading material, writing topics, math skills, reinforcers, daily instruction, etc.

Special interest ideas: color, character, number, shapes, objects, animal, place, food, letter, etc.

Home Base

Home base is a designated place where a student can go to regain control during times of high anxiety or stress. It should be used as a proactive strategy.

How does home base help?

Home base can help a student cope with a particularly challenging situation without distracting other classmates. The goal is to keep the students in the classroom.

I Need to Get Calm

1. Get a comfy seat
2. Choose a calm down tool:
3. Set the timer  ↻
4. Back to work!
